

Listening Tour

with Dr. Steven Hoffman

Scientific Director of Institute of Population and Public Health

Steven Hoffman, the new Scientific Director for the CIHR-Institute of Population and Public Health is in Montréal as part of a listening tour he is planning. The objectives of the tour are to:

- Get more familiar with emerging and priority public health issues of interest to population and public health (PPH) researchers, policy makers and practitioners in the country; and,
- Learn more about issues of concern to population and public health researchers and potential solutions for consideration by IPPH and CIHR.

Come and share your ideas with Steven!
